*A commercial interest is defined as any entity procuring, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. Non-profit or government organizations and non-healthcare related entities are excluded from this definition.

Conflict of Interest Identification

The University of Alabama School of Medicine requires full disclosure of all financial relationships to ensure that all CME activities it sponsors are free of commercial influence and bias, all research reported is scientifically valid, all information is accurate and all recommendations are made with the interest of the public placed above any individual interests.

The Division of CME requires that anyone who is in a position to influence or control the content of CME activity disclose all financial relationships with commercial interests so that any conflict of interest can be identified and mitigated prior to the start of the CME activity. Please refer to the following information as you complete this form:

- The Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) defines relevant financial relationships as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 24 months.
- Please disclose interactions with ANY entity that could be considered broadly relevant to the content of the above CME activity.
- Report all sources of revenue paid (or promised to be paid) directly to you or to your institution on your behalf within the past 24 months.
- If there is any question, it is usually better to disclose a relationship than not to do so.

Other Relationships:

Are there other relationships or activities that the audience could perceive to have influenced, or that give the appearance of potentially influencing, the context of the above educational activity?

- No other relationships/conditions/circumstances that present a potential conflict of interest.
- Yes, the following relationships/conditions/circumstances are present (explain below):

I agree that I will:

- Work with the course director to resolve any perceived conflicts of interest related to this activity;
- Inform the audience of any potential conflict of interest, or lack thereof, as determined by the course director and the Division of CME Office, including the use of a mandatory slide #2 that lists potential conflicts;
- Deliver unbiased, objective, evidence-based content and present the source and type or level of evidence;
- Inform the audience if I discuss or reference an unlabeled/unapproved use of a therapeutic agent or device; and
- Inform the audience if I use any information from research supported by any of my financial interests and will demonstrate that the information was obtained through general accepted scientific methods.

I attest that the foregoing information is complete and truthful.
